

Instead of putting "pretties" on our tree today, we rode out into the mountains to see God's decorating plan. Oh, such beauty! I tuck these sights in my memory bank so that someday, if I can no longer see or hear, I can call up the wondrous scenes and enjoy them all over again.

Happy Fall, Y'all.

